Indian Peafowl
(Pavo cristatus)
The Indian peafowl is the national bird of India, and can be found mainly in India, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, and other areas of south Asia. The male, known as the peacock, has large, brightly-colored feathers, which he displays to attract females (peahens) during courtship in spring. Peacock feathers are a beautiful iridescent blue, making them popular for use in artwork. Peafowl are also considered very useful birds to keep as they eat poisonous insects and snakes.

Tools
Scissors, glue (We recommend a strong adhesive such as woodwork glue.)

Caution
Glue, scissors and other tools may be dangerous to young children so be sure to keep them out of the reach of young children.
Assemble A₁.

Assemble A₁, A₂, A₃, A₄ and A₅, attach them to A₁.
Attach the head and the body

Assemble A6, A7, A8, A9 and A10, attach them to A1.

Arrange the glue spots of each part.

Align the section of A10 to be glued (indicated by arrows) with the central glue tabs on A1, and glue them together.

Assemble it like a box.

Assemble B1 and B2, and make the internal frame.

Assemble B3, B4 and B5.

Cut the slots and glue together.

Insert the strengthening parts as in the photo. (The photo is of B3.)

Stabilizing parts
Attach B⁴ and B⁵ to B³ from behind.

Assemble B⁶, B⁷, and B⁸, and complete the body.

Insert B⁴ and B⁵ into the holes in B³ from behind, and attach. (*Use a strong adhesive such as woodwork glue to attach firmly.)
Assemble B(1), B(2), B(3) and B(4), insert the leg cores and attach the legs to the body.

Assemble B(5) ~ B(8) and B(9) ~ B(12), make the feet, assemble B(13) and B(14), and make the stand.

*Use a strong adhesive such as woodwork glue to attach firmly.
Glue C₁~C₁₀ together, and D₁~D₁₀ together, and make both sides of the tail feathers.

Attach C₁ to C₁₀.

Front of tail feathers
It will be curved in this direction.

Attach D₁ to D₁₀.

Back of tail feathers
It will be curved in this direction.

Attach the front of tail feathers and the back of tail feathers.

After gluing them together, cut away the excess black areas around the edge, using the red line as a guide.
Make B⁹ and B¹⁰ (the wings), attach all the parts together and complete your Indian peafowl.

Attach B⁹ and B¹⁰ to the internal frame B⁸, aligning it with the guide.

Align A¹¹ with the guide on B⁹, and attach the tail feathers.

Attach the legs to the body, and attach them to the stand.
(*Use a strong adhesive such as woodwork glue to attach firmly.)

Complete!
